

2008 Great American Insurance Group/ USDF Breeders' Championship Series

The Great American Insurance Group/USDF Breeders' Championship Series (USDFBC) is a program designed to promote breeders and quality sport horses. Each series will consist of at least three qualifying events in designated geographical areas of the United States, which will lead to a final event in each series.

Grand champions will receive an embroidered cooler, neck sash, and plaque. Reserve grand champions will receive a leather lead, neck sash, and plaque. These are all made possible by the generosity of the Great American Insurance Group/USDF Breeders' Championship Series sponsors.

Title Sponsor: Great American Insurance Group

Event Sponsors: Harmony Sporthorses; Iron Spring Farm; Stargate Sporthorses; Oldenburg Horse Breeders Society NA Div. of GOV

Contributing Sponsors: American Hanoverian Society, DG Bar Ranch, Greengate Sporthorses

Exhibitors compete at qualifying events for the champion and reserve champion filly, colt/gelding, mare and stallion. These horses will be invited to compete in the final event of that series, which is where the Great American Insurance Group/USDF Breeders' Championship Series Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion Filly, Colt/Gelding, Mare, and Stallion will be determined. Filly champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the filly final class, and colt/gelding champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the colt/gelding final class. Mare champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the mare final class, and stallion champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the stallion final class.

QUALIFYING SYSTEM

Each qualifying event must offer a filly championship class and a colt/gelding championship class. These classes are USDFBC Qualifying Classes.

The filly and colt/gelding championship classes must be open to first- and second-placed* horses of sport horse prospect in hand classes for all horses age three and under, as listed below:

Filly Championship:

Two-year-old fillies
Three-year-old fillies

Colt/Gelding Championship:

Colts/geldings-current calendar year
Yearling colts/geldings
Two-year-old colts/geldings
Three-year-old colts/geldings

The champion and reserve champion filly from each series qualifying event are eligible to compete in the series filly final class, and the champion and reserve champion colt/gelding from each series qualifying event are eligible to compete in the series colt/gelding final class.

Each qualifying event must also name a mare champion and reserve and a stallion champion and reserve, which is (1) the first- and second-placed mare, if only one mare class is held; and the first- and second-placed stallion, if only one stallion class is held OR (2) the first- and second-placed mare in the mare championship class, when two or more mare classes are held; and the first- and second-placed stallion in the stallion championship class, when two or more stallion classes are held (classes may be broken into groups based on age, breeding status, or competition status). These classes are USDFBC Qualifying Classes.

Mare and stallion championship classes, if held, must be open to first- and second-placed* horses of breeding stock in hand classes.

The champion and reserve champion mare from each series qualifying event are eligible to compete in the series mare final class, and the champion and reserve champion stallion from each series qualifying event are eligible to compete in the series stallion final class.

Age/sex eligibility is determined as follows:

- Fillies and colts three years of age and under may show ONLY as sport horse prospects.
- Mares and stallions age four and over may show ONLY in breeding stock classes.
- Geldings of any age may NOT show in breeding stock classes/categories. Geldings age three and under may show ONLY in sport horse classes/categories.

No geldings may compete in the USDFBC classes for stallions even if they are gelded after qualifying for the finals and are breeding via frozen semen.

The USDFBC championship classes must be held and judged. These championships may not be awarded on the basis of previous scores.

Horses in all championship classes must be evaluated according to USEF DR 210, which lists judging specifications for championships classes.

* Organizers have the option of including third place horses in championship classes.

 If the champion, reserve or both have already qualified for the Final class, the third-place horse will also be invited to compete in the Final

REQUIREMENTS

Filly champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the USDFBC Series Filly Final Class, and colt/gelding champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the USDFBC Series Colt/Gelding Final Class. Mare champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the USDFBC Series Mare Final Class, and stallion champions and reserves from each series qualifying event will compete together in the USDFBC Series Stallion Final Class.

A grand champion and reserve grand champion filly, colt/gelding, mare, and stallion will be named at each series final event. Grand champions will receive an embroidered cooler, neck sash and plaque. Reserve grand champions will receive a leather lead, neck sash and plaque. Third through sixth-placed horses in the series final classes will receive ribbons. Certificates will be given for all horses that compete in a series final class. Awards will be provided by USDF through the generous support of the series sponsors.

Awards may be withheld by USDF to series winners if the following information is not provided to USDF or show management prior to reporting or competition deadlines: name of horse, age, and sex of horse, USDF Lifetime Horse Registration (LHR) number (or USDF Horse Identification (HID) number for a qualifier), handler and owner. If known, the following must also be provided: breed of horse (even if grade), sire, dam, damsire, and breeder.

At least two judges (one of whom must be a licensed USEF DSHB judge) must officiate in each series final class. Each judge will evaluate each entry independently, and scribes must be provided for each judge. Winners will be determined by the average of all judges' scores. The highest placed horse in each class will be declared grand champion and the second-highest placed horse will be declared reserve grand champion.

Horses must be shown individually on the triangle at the walk and trot and standing for conformation. Each horse must be evaluated in the same manner. DSHB sport horse prospects are evaluated on yellow score sheets; DSHB breeding stock horses are evaluated on pink score sheets. Call backs are permitted.

Series final events must agree to allow late entries in the series final classes for horses that qualified after the official closing date for the final event. When qualifying classes are held in addition to the final class at the series final event, management must collect USDF LHR number and/or participating or business membership applications and fees for ineligible entries that wish to participate in the series final classes and submit these applications and fees to the USDF office within 24 hours of the final class.

Results of USDFBC Series Final classes must include name of horse, USDF LHR number (if fees and forms are not collected), age, sex, owner, and handler. If known the following must also be provided: breed of horse, sire, dam, damsire, and breeder.

RULES AND ELIGIBILITY

The USDFBC Series is scheduled on a calendar year basis (January 1-December 31).

If champions and/or reserve champions in any qualifying event have already qualified to compete in the USDFBC Series Final class, only the third-placed horse in the qualifying class(es) (filly, colt/gelding, mare or stallion championships), will also be permitted to compete in their respective final class at the series final event. However the qualifier ribbons may only be given to the champions and reserve.

A series final will be considered tentative until at least three qualifying events have been registered for the series. If a USDFBC Series does not have at least three qualifying events registered with USDF by June 1 of the final's year or at least twelve weeks before the date of the series final, the series final will not be held for the series. USDF reserves the right to combine series without the minimum number of qualifying events, and horses that have qualified for a series final in this case may participate in the series final of any other USDFBC Series in the same calendar year.
